Ovzon receives a new order from Swedish Space Corporation (SSC) for Ovzon SATCOM-as-a-Service

Ovzon received a new order for Ovzon SATCOM-as-a-Service from their partner Swedish Space Corporation (SSC). The service will be delivered during the second quarter of 2023.

Ovzon's SATCOM-as-a-Service is the market's leading integrated satellite communications solution. It includes Ovzon's market leading mobile satellite terminals, highly resilient and high-performance satellite networks, and the best-in-industry service and support. With this order, Ovzon further deepens its collaboration with SSC, in the continued dialogue with customers within Swedish government agencies. SSC is also a crucial partner in the delivery of the service.

"We are very pleased to receive this new order from SSC. We look forward to further expand our already excellent collaboration. Our own satellite Ovzon 3, with its unique capabilities, is high on the agenda. Together with SSC, we provide the Swedish market with a world leading, integrated, and highly efficient satellite communication service based on Swedish technology and innovation", says Per Norén, CEO of Ovzon.
